I. The Search Bar

The search bar is available in all tabs of EMIS. The search is done in the full database, so as the result you are likely to see articles, researches, companies and lot more.

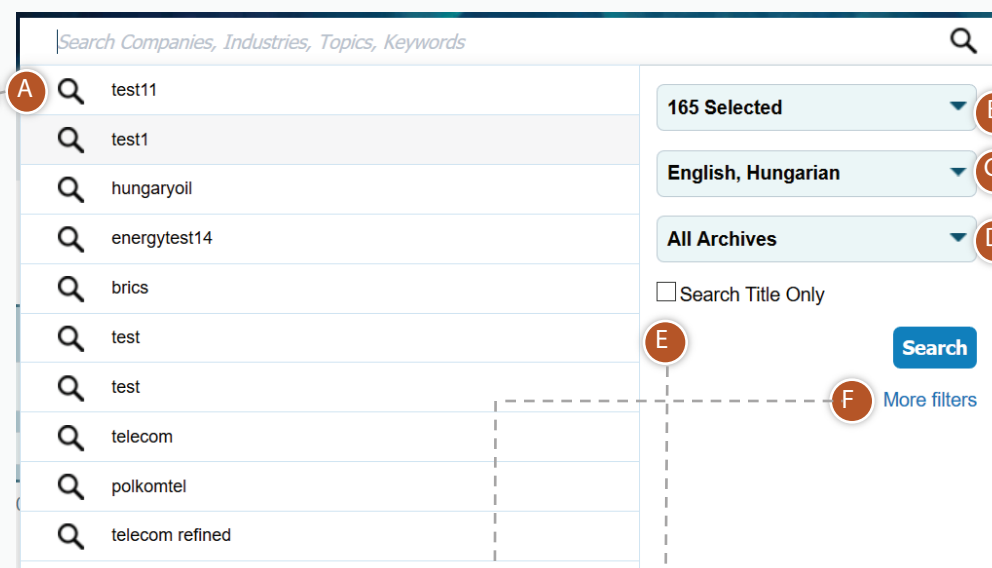

I.I Mega Menu Booleans

When ever you click in the search bar, a Mega Menu will appear with some filters you can use to make your search more precise.

The contents in the Mega Menu are:

Saved / Latest Searches :

- Here you will see your Saved Searches. By clicking on one of them, you will perform the search. If you have no saved searches, your latest searches will be visible here. If it is your first search performed, this field will be left blank.

B Regions and Countries:

- This is a multi-selection dropdown allowing you to search in all countries of your subscription. By default, all your country settings are represented in the dropdown, but you might add or remove any countries or regions you want.

C Language:

- Here you might select the languages of the items you search for. The default is the language of the countries selected (e.g. in case of Russia and Brazil you will see English, Russian and Portuguese languages), but you might remove any of these languages.

D Date Range

- You can select here any publication date for which you want to see items in the search. The default is Last 12 month, but we remember your last choice by cookies.

By clicking on More Filters, you will be navigated to the Advanced Search page with all filtering options.

E The keywords you add will be searched in the title of the content only

I.I Mega Menu Booleans

When ever start typing the left pane will be transformed to auto-complete and keyword transformation bok sz.

Keyword Transformation

- If you are starting typing and the last keyword you type matches a country/industry/publication type, we will offer you adding a filter instead of the keyword. E.g. if in the case displayed you click on Set filter: China, chin will be removed and China will be added as a country filter (replacing the currently selected 165 countries)
- Priority order is: country>publication type>industry
- Among industries the main ones are supported (2-3 digit NAICS usually).
- Supported publication types: news, reports, statistics
- Transformation is always based on your user interface language

The screenshot shows a search interface with a search box containing 'chir'. Below the search box is a dropdown menu with several options:

- Set filter: CHINA (highlighted in yellow, marked with 'A')
- china construction report (marked with 'B')
- china Agriculture report
- China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation (中国石油化工股份有限公司) (China)
- China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation (中国石油化工股份有限公司) (Hong Kong)
- China State Construction Engineering Corporation Limited (中国建筑股份有限公司) (China)
- Ping An Insurance Group Company Of China Limited (中国平安保险集团股份有限公司) (Hong Kong)
- South China Morning Post-G-China

On the right side of the dropdown menu, there are several filter options:

- 165 Selected (dropdown)
- English, Hungarian (dropdown, marked with 'B')
- All Archives (dropdown)
- Search Title Only
- Search button
- More filters

Auto Complete:

- When you will type a keyword in the search box, you will get automatic Company, Industry, Sources and Previous Searches suggestions. If you click on one of them, you will be navigated directly to that page instead of the search results.
- E.g. if you start typing China, you will get China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation as a suggestion

2. Boolean Search Operators and Search Functionalities

Both within the search bar and in the “Refine Search” view in the results page, you are allowed to use Boolean operators. These are:

Operators	Examples
AND	Using AND means that you want all keywords with AND between them within the search results. So, if you search for telecom AND industry AND growth you will get hits containing all 3 words. Please note that AND is the default Boolean operator we use (except in Chinese language, where OR is the default), so if you do not add any other operators between keywords, we consider that you want to see all keywords in the results. If you type telecom industry for instance, it is equivalent to telecom AND industry .
OR	telecom OR industry This search will retrieve articles that contain either the word telecom or industry or both.
NOT	telecom NOT industry This search will retrieve articles that contain the word telecom , but not industry .
NEAR	internet nearN banking (where N is an integer) This search will retrieve articles that contain Internet within N words (or less) of the keyword Banking . Note: The N is optional; if omitted, the number 10 is assumed. Values must be 1 or more.
Parentheses ()	Use parentheses () to separate search operators. Take for instance, a search such as the following: (PE OR “private equity”) AND ITES This search will retrieve articles containing any of the words (phrases) in within the parentheses, and the word ITES .
*	bank* This will retrieve articles containing words derived from bank: bank, banks, banking, banker , etc. It can be used only at the end of words.
?	The ? operator will substitute for any character . Use ? to search for words which can be spelled in different ways. For example: if you search for organi?ation , the search will retrieve results containing either organisation or organization .
%, $, £, ¥, €, +	These special characters are considered in search, so if you will search for $100 , your search results will not contain words without “$”.
Stemming	When you are doing a single language search, we enable stemming. Stemming means that we find your keyword’s root form and we will search for all keywords with the similar root. For example: If you search for manufacturing , you will get results with the following keywords: manufacturing, manufacture, manufacturer, manufacturers etc. If you want to turn off stemming, put your keywords into quotation marks. Stemming is by default turned off in the following languages: Turkish, Hungarian

Please note that if you use any Boolean items in search, those are always treated as Boolean operators and not as keywords unless you put them into quotation marks. E.g. if you search for has not confirmed, you will get results containing has, but not confirmed. If you search for “has not confirmed”, you will get articles containing the exact phrase has not confirmed.

3. The Search Results Page

The screenshot shows the search results for 'telecom'. At the top, there is a search bar with the text 'telecom' and a 'Search' button. Below the search bar, there are filters for 'All text', 'All', 'News', 'Reports', 'Companies', 'Sources', and 'More'. There are also filters for 'Last 12 Months', '153 countries/regions', and 'English'. The results are sorted by 'Relevance' and there are 105,383 results. The main content area shows several search results, including 'Telecommunications - Industry Overview', 'Competitive Landscape (Telecoms Report Argentina Telecommunications Competitive Landscape - Argentina - Q1 2021)', 'FRPT Telecom Snapshot - When Published', 'Competitive Landscape (Telecoms Report Brazil Telecommunications Competitive Landscape - Brazil - Q1 2021)', 'Competitive Landscape (Telecoms Report Argentina Telecommunications Competitive Landscape - Argentina - Q4 2020)', and 'Thailand - Telecom Sector Note'.
